Smaller Paycheck Looms Next Month

★ ★ ★ Congress Hikes Tax

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is expected to sign within a few days the 10 percent income tax surcharge bill and taxpayers should find paychecks smaller before the end of July.

The first federal income tax hike in 17 years, coupled with a $6-billion cut in federal spending, whipped through the Senate Friday by a surprisingly large margin, although passage had been expected.

The vote was 64-16 with some senators predicting that economic recession, not rekindling of faith in the dollar, would be the result.

LBJ TO SIGN BILL

Johnson is sure to sign the measure despite misgivings on the depth of mandatory spending cuts. Just when was not certain. White House press secretary George Christian said probably in a few days.

Withholding rates will be raised 10 percent for individuals in the first pay period 15 days after the measure is signed.

Passage of the bill marked the first time Congress had agreed to boost federal income taxes since 1951 during the Korean war when — as now — U.S. forces were heavily engaged in an Asian war.

The 10 percent surcharge is retroactive to April 1 for individuals, Jan. 1 for corporations. It expires June 30, 1969 unless extended.

OPPOSE ACTION

A few senators warned against the bill in the final debate, but the great majority appeared to feel it was essential to demonstrate the fiscal responsibility of the government.

Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., argued that it could lead to an economic recession in 1969.

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., said the bill was certain to mean shortighted cuts in spending for education and welfare programs.

Nor, he declared, will it accomplish the results which its backers claimed for it by ending inflation and restoring a sound dollar.

"The economic problems of this country result from the Vietnamese war and the people are beginning to understand it," Morse said. "You can see it in their votes."

CITES NEED

Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., a sponsor of the measure, said "this is stern fiscal action but if we do not take it the budget deficit in the next fiscal year is almost certain to exceed $30 billion."

Sen. George A. Smathers, D-Fla., said the measure is "a

New Fight Brewing At Saigon

U.S. Forces Around City Strengthened

SAIGON (AP) — The Vietnam war becomes the longest war in American history today with thousands of U.S. troops set up in new positions to protect South Vietnam's capital against a threatened third enemy offensive.

At midnight in Saigon—noon EDT—the war will be six years, six months and one day old, measured from the death on Dec. 22, 1961, of Spec. 4 James Thomas Davis of Livingston, Tenn., the first of more than 25,000 Americans who have been killed in Vietnam.

The longest war involving American fighting men had been the War of Independence—six years and six months from the April 19, 1775, skirmish at Lexington, Mass., to the Oct. 19, 1781, surrender of Cornwallis at Yorktown.

KILL 12 REDS

U.S. 25th Division infantrymen sweeping the outer edges of the rocket belt reported killing 12 enemy soldiers and capturing seven weapons nine miles northwest of the capital. No U.S. casualties were reported.

Some 535,000 American troops now are fighting in Vietnam. The U.S. Command has pulled thousands of American infantrymen from outlying provinces, military sources said today, in an effort to block key enemy infiltration routes and cut down enemy shellings that have terrorized Saigon's 3 million people.

A senior U.S. officer declined to say how many troops were being moved closer to the capital, but it was learned that perhaps a brigade of infantrymen—3,000 men—had been moved to the city's outer limits.

One troop move paid off Friday. U.S. headquarters said paratroopers of the U.S. 101st Airborne Division killed 35 enemy soldiers in a daylong fight northwest of Saigon after moving from northeast of the city.

The move put the paratroopers along some of the most heavily used enemy infiltration corridors between Cambodia and Saigon in Hau Nghia Province.

One American was killed and 36 were wounded in the clash, in which the paratroopers were supported by artillery, air strikes and helicopter gunships. Informed government sources say prisoner interrogations and captured enemy documents indicate the Viet Cong plans a third offensive on Saigon in July as a followup to the lunar new year offensive last February and the "peace talks" offensive May 5.

INFLUENCING TALKS

The second wave of attacks came the day before U.S.-North Vietnamese negotiations opened in Paris. U.S. officials say the enemy is trying to influence the talks with a show of military strength.

The government sources said the Viet Cong is increasing its number of divisions around Saigon from three to five, with the two new divisions composed of local guerrillas and North Vietnamese regulars.

U.S. counter moves include saturation bombing near the capital by eight-engine B52s.

The stratofortresses, credited with helping thwart mass enemy assaults on Con Thien and Khe Sanh along the demilitarized zone, struck six times in the last 24 hours in Hau Nghia and neighboring Binh Duong Province.

STUDY CANDIDATES Negro Group Eyes Presidential Race

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Negro congressman, with Mrs. Martin Luther King Jr. at his side, announced today the formation of a national committee of inquiry to analyze the positions of presidential candidates and "report back to the black community."

Rep. John Conyers, D-Mich., said the committee will weigh the statements and records of the candidates to determine which will do most to "meet the needs and demands of black America in 1968."

Mrs. King, whose civil rights leader husband was slain in Memphis April 4, did not speak. Conyers said she was one of about 200 prominent Negroes who were signatories in formation of the committee.

CONYER'S IDEA

Conyers said about 200 responded to a letter he sent out June 6 and that the total may swell to more than 10,000, including local committees of inquiry in each city.

Analyses of the candidates' records will begin immediately, Conyers said, but final decisions will not be made until after the Democratic and Republican political conventions in August. He said, however, the committee

Griffin Seeks To Block LBJ

Doesn't Want Him To Pick Successor To Warren

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three Republican senators say they will oppose any effort by President Johnson to name a new chief justice of the Supreme Court after Earl Warren steps down.

"For a 'lame duck' president to designate the leadership of the Supreme Court for many years in the future would break faith with our system and would be an affront to the American people," Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., told the Senate.

"With the court in adjournment and the American people about to pick a new administration which may considerably reorient the philosophy of our national government, it would be a major mistake to presume today to fill such an important post," said Sen. John G. Tower, R-Tex.

Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., agreed with both of them, adding he was "delighted to hear Chief Justice Earl Warren will be retiring from the Supreme Court. I have long favored such a move."

CONTROVERSIAL YEARS

All three commented Friday in the wake of authoritative reports that Warren had written Johnson of his intention to bow out after 15 controversial years that saw the barriers of school segregation tumble and guarantees of the rights of individuals vastly expanded.

Senate Judiciary Committee Chairman James O. Eastland, D-Miss., said he believes the elevation of an associate justice to chief justice needs Senate confirmation, as was done in 1941 when Franklin D. Roosevelt nominated Harlan Fiske Stone to succeed Charles Evans Hughes.

The Constitution says nothing about that specific point, spelling out only the need for Senate confirmation of a justice.

Both Johnson and Warren, however, surely are mindful that the Senate spearheaded in recent weeks the attack on the court that resulted in the omnibus crime control bill Johnson signed into law the past week.

BLOCKS VERDICTS

Some provisions of the bill are intended to overturn court decisions that restricted the admissibility of confessions as evidence and eyewitness identifications made in police lineups.

Despite the comments in the Senate, there was praise for Warren Friday.

Arthur J. Goldberg, who left a position on the court to become U.S. ambassador at the United Nations, called him "one of the greatest chief justices in the history of the United States."

Warren served for 11 years as Republican governor of California, but that state's Democratic House Speaker, Jesse M. Unruh, said Warren's "contribution to the nation and the ideals for What Now For D.C. Camp City?

Officials Unlikely To Extend Permit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The beleaguered Poor People's campaign enters its most crucial weekend today facing a Sunday deadline to get out of its shantytown near the Lincoln Memorial.

The permit for Resurrection City expires Sunday at 8 p.m. Federal officials were reported strongly opposed to granting an extension of the permit, already extended one week from the original expiration date June 16.

The Rev. Ralph David Abernathy, leader of the campaign, repeated Friday that he and his followers will not leave voluntarily because the goals of improved job and income opportunities for the nation's poor have not been attained.

"We have no place else to go," Abernathy said.

QUITS PASTORATE

An aide disclosed later that Abernathy is resigning his pastorate in Atlanta to devote all his time to the campaign.

The Rev. Jesse Jackson told a rally Abernathy will make the official announcement Sunday from his pulpit in Atlanta's West Hunter Street Baptist Church, where he has preached almost every weekend since Resurrection City was set up six weeks ago. He has served there since 1961.

"Dr. Abernathy will tell his congregation that his life is no longer a matter of feeding the Abernathy family, but feeding the poor everywhere," Jackson said.

John Howard, Benton Harbor Democratic party leader, has announced. Deputy Secretary of State James McClure will replace Hare, who was reported resting comfortably at George Washington University hospital late Friday after sustaining what a doctor said was a possible heart attack.

The first of the two registration kickoff sessions will be held at 7 o'clock this evening in the Benton Harbor public library auditorium. The second is set at the St. Joseph township hall on Napier avenue, Fairplain, at 8:15 p. m.

All Democratic candidates for both county and state legislative offices have been invited to attend both meetings. The public is invited to attend either or both sessions.

Hare had been attending a meeting of the National Highway Safety Advisory committee when he was stricken Thursday evening.

Fish War Funds Are Approved

$300,000 For Shad Research

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Appropriations Committee voted Friday to provide $300,000 for research into the deaths of millions of fish in the Great Lakes.

The funds were part of a proposed $800,000 increase in the $12,278,300 voted by the House for research activities by the Bureau of Commercial Fisheries.

The other $300,000 of the committee-approved increase would be earmarked for a survey of fish resources in the Bering Sea and Alaska coastal waters.

The dieoff last year of massive numbers of a small fish called alewives clogged water intakes and fouled beaches around the Great Lakes, principally Lake Michigan. Losses attributed to the dieoff were estimated in the tens of millions of dollars.

Highway Department Investigation

The Ingham county circuit court has granted a petition by Governor Romney and Attorney General Kelley to run the State Highway Department through a grand jury probe.

The petition charges embezzlement, fraud, accepting bribes and overpaying contractors from 1957 until last year.

This ten-year period covers the time in which John C. Mackie, as Michigan's last elected highway commissioner, headed up the Department from 1957 to 1964, and its subsequent direction by Howard Hill as the appointed commissioner under the New-Con system for the ensuing three years.

Mackie left the Department for Congress, representing the district around his home town of Pontiac. He lost out to a Republican opponent in the '66 election. He maintains a farm residence at Warrenton, Va., one of the more stylish suburbs of Washington, D.C. Since his defeat he has not been connected with a political job.

The new highway commission named by Romney elevated Hill, the deputy director under Mackie, to the No. 1 post in 1964. Upon attaining civil service retirement age last year, he left the Department and since has been working from Detroit as a consultant to a cement producer.

Henrik E. Stafseth who was St. Joseph's city engineer 20 years ago for a brief period is the present director.

The substance of the joint petition by Romney and Kelley was first aired nearly 18 months ago.

The early 1967 complaint differs from this week's mainly in its form.

The Governor and the Attorney General publicized their views separately and for a while somewhat argumentatively at one another.

Kelley then conducted his own investigation which reported no major misdeeds were to be found and that a number of mistakes in overpaying some contractors resulted from sloppy business practice rather than concerted skulduggery.

Kelley's study revealed two principal items of questionable conduct.

An engineer who upon leaving the Department to establish his own firm seemed to receive a disproportionately high amount of business from the Department.

Another contractor appeared to have considerable luck in getting additional payments for extras on his contracts.

Their joint petition repeats in stronger language a suspicion of planned thievery and adds to it the allegation of the Department, or some of its key personnel, being partners with underworld syndicates masquerading in legitimate business form.

Neither the Governor nor the Attorney General will elaborate on what stirs them unitedly to new action.

The outsider can only guess that rumors from some people doing business with the Department and/or some people from within the Department refuse to die down.

The Romney-Kelley petition, therefore, gives a surface appearance of being drawn on the basis of where there's smoke there must be fire.

Both Mackie and Hill label the investigation an election year headline stunt.

Mackie is particularly vehement in this regard. His comment is all more striking because it comes from one high ranking Democrat potshotting another of equal status (Kelley).

Public works agencies in the U.S. which conduct their business transactions in vein attributed to private firms are few and far between.

Being political bodies they are subject to the whims and pressures of politics.

The Michigan Department is no exception to this norm, even though it ranks high in total performance among other state or federal road agencies.

Countless communities have lobbied a piece of roadwork which may or may not be of value to the state's total requirements.

Awarding contracts or the smoother variation of drafting specifications to encompass some contractors and exclude others is commonly an application of the time honored maxim that in politics one rewards his friends and punishes his enemies if he expects to stick around 'til the next election has been counted.

We had a sample of that practice when Mackie was ready to push the I-94 through the Grande Mere sector a few years ago.

His engineers specified asphalt paving on the ground that the excellent drainage of the sandy soil makes asphalt as durable as concrete.

This stirred Paul Townsend, then president of Huron Portland Cement, to public exhortation of Mackie favoring outstate oil producers (asphalt is a by-product of the refineries) against a locally tax paying cement maker (his huge installation at Alpena).

Nobody would come right out and say it, but the answer to that argument was simple. The oil companies were generous campaign contributors to Mackie's electioneering. The cement makers, at least Huron, were not.

These are shenanigans, which people being what they are supposed to be, will always be with us; and if conducted with a minimum of cupidity do not sock the public unduly.

This was the substance of Kelley's first finding. The present accusation has the same flavor of using salt to cauterize a bleeding finger.

Grand jury findings must be kept secret in their details, but a reasonably pinpointed summary of its discoveries can be revealed.

Toward the thought of determining once and forever who or what is or is not under the Department's bed, this summary should be disclosed as soon as possible once the hearing have been held.

If gold continues to flow from the U. S., it may be necessary to reopen the gold mines.

The Berrien Center Grange, oldest active Grange unit in the state is building a new hall. The present hall in Berrien Center was built by the farmers organization in 1876. In 1917 the two story building was sold to Berrien township for use as a township hall but use of the upstairs was retained by the Grangers. However, because several of the older members have found the stairs seemingly getting steeper and longer in recent years, the group decided to construct a new one-story meeting room.

Work on the structure began about 10 days ago on property donated by Grange member Leslie Schofield, located on Huckleberry road, nearly a mile south of Dean Hill road. Completion is expected by early fall.

One of the most widely acclaimed American fashion designers of today, Bill Blass has been listed as one of the 10 best dressed men in America. His sense of line, color and style have carried him from a sketcher's desk to a partnership with a leading manufacturer of exclusive women's wear.

Blass was born in 1922 in Fort Wayne, Ind., where he played football, worked on the high school paper and dabbled in art.

A fascination with the fashions in "Vogue" and "Harper's Bazaar" led him to study at the Parsons School of Design in New York. Three and one-half years in the armed forces as a camouflage worker and later as a combat engineer took him to Germany, Holland, England and Paris.

In 1959, he joined Maurice Rentner and two years later was elevated to the vice presidency of that company.

His designs are noted for their crisp elegance and clean, simple lines. The vibrancy of his collections can be explained by his uninhibited use of color.

His designs furs, swimwear, children's wear and accessories

HENRY CATHCART

Inside Washington

WASHINGTON —The shocking removal of Robert F. Kennedy from the presidential race has made Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey the undisputed leader for the Democratic presidential nomination. It has also served to hurt Sen. Eugene McCarthy, whose minority role has been accentuated by the fact that there is a clearer majority-minority expression of division among Democratic voters.

Despite the continuing unpredictability of political events in this presidential election year, long-time observers are convinced that Humphrey will win at the Democratic National Convention in August, with many of them thinking in terms of a first-ballot victory.

In Humphrey's own camp, there are the beginnings of concern that he is "peaking" in popularity and preference among the delegates too early. They would have preferred a more gradual build-up as August neared.

There are some observers who believe that, despite his public statements to the contrary, McCarthy may formally withdraw from the race before the convention. This is predicted on Humphrey's own development of positions on Vietnam and the poverty issue which can be identified as his own and at some variance with the policies of President Johnson.

If McCarthy can point to some solid accomplishments in changing the course of Democratic party policies, he can claim he has accomplished what he set out to do. Some of his backers would actually prefer this route, rather than to see a convention vote that would be interpreted as a repudiation of the McCarthy campaign for change.

DR. COLEMAN

.. And Speaking Of Your Health

Ulcers of the feet and legs, especially in the elderly, present a great threat unless their cause is established early. Poor circulation of the feet because of narrowing of the arteries by arteriosclerosis deprives the tissues and muscles of blood and the oxygen it carries. It is for this reason that people with circulatory disturbances and chronic illnesses like diabetes, must be particularly careful not to injure, bruise, or cut their feet, because healing is so much more difficult.

Of great value now is the better understanding of blood circulation and the prevention of ulcers by a technique known as arteriography. By this method it is possible to inject a special type of dye and follow it through the circulation of the arteries and veins in the legs and in the feet. The speed with which the dye passes through the blood stream is determined by X-rays taken at repeated intervals.

Abnormalities of blood vessels and varicose veins deep within the muscles of the leg, can now be readily recognized and, in many cases, can be repaired by some of the new, successful, surgical methods.

Ulcers of the feet need very special attention to keep them from becoming complicated and difficult to cure.

The techniques of arteriography can also study all the other large blood vessels in the body, including the brain and heart.

An excellent list has been compiled by Dr. J. R. Stevens, Dr. K. Sachdev and Dr. Milstein at the University of Oregon to bring to the attention of parents, early recognition of emotional problems.

Dr. Bertram Gosliner, a psychoanalyst in New York City who devotes most of his time to children and adolescents, points out that parents too often take the attitude that their children's unusual behavior will soon "pass" without help. He believes that neglect of the early symptoms allows more time for them to penetrate deeply and makes the cure more difficult.

All these physicians believe that rage, anger and tantrums that occur repeatedly and without real reason, must not be overlooked. Teasing and hurling may be passing behaviors of children, but when they occur in conjunction with lying and stealing, they deserve more attention.

Persistent bed-wetting during the day and the night, with occasional loss of control of the bowels, are important and deserve outspoken discussion with a doctor.

The child who is consistently unhappy, coldly unaffectionate and withdrawn, may have poor social relationships with friends and other members of the family. These children need special support.

Failure at school and inability to keep up with reading, deserve hearing and eye studies. Poor speech patterns that are cute in infancy, become a burden to the growing child. Tremors, tic, disturbances of sleep and teeth grinding may be indications of a behavior disorder that needs concentrated attention. In this way, children can be given the great gift of emotional health during their approach to adolescence and maturity.

The bidding:

Good bidding will get you to the best contract a very high percentage of the time. Every bid you make sends your partner a message. He then attempts to reply in kind, so that your side may exchange the maximum amount of information.

After these messages have been delivered, either one player or the other determines the final contract.

Thus, when South opens the bidding with a heart, he announces the values for an opening bid, though he does not indicate at once how strong or weak he is in either high cards or distribution.

North's raise to two hearts is much more precise. It states that he has from 6 to 9 points, which may or may not include distributional values.

The two spade bid shows values beyond a minimum opening bid, since otherwise South would pass. It furthermore proposes spades as trump in the event that North has longer spades than hearts.

Three spades guarantees four-card support and indicates a willingness to contract for game. Four spades ends the auction.

There is one very serious drawback to such lengthy and precise exchanges of information. While partners are relaying messages back and forth for their own edification, their opponents listen in, and what they overhear frequently helps them too find the best defense.

West took full advantage of the bidding in this deal to find the killing lead. He began with the ace and another heart, and declarer could not prevent West from giving East a heart ruff later on to defeat the contract a trick.

West reasoned that North-South were sure to have at least eight hearts for the opening heart bid and immediate raise. This meant that East had at most a singleton or doubleton heart and that he could therefore ruff a heart, either immediately or eventually.

Had South been less scientific in the bidding and jumped directly to four hearts over two, he would have made the contract.

Man Guilty On Reduced Charge

Accused Of Beating Woman

A. Benton Harborite, Eddie Riley Hall, 33, was convicted by a Berrien circuit jury Friday of aggravated assault against a Benton Harbor woman on Nov. 6, 1967, in the city.

Hall, of 765 High street, was tried on a felony charge — assault with intent to do great bodily harm — but Judge Chester J. Byrns instructed the jury to return either a verdict of innocent, or guilty of a high misdemeanor, aggravated assault, or guilty of simple assault.

Hall was charged with beating Mrs. Loretta Ezell, of 351 High street, Benton Harbor. A doctor's report read into evidence listed injuries as a compound fracture of the arm, cuts on the knuckles and head, a collapsed lung, and body bruises.

Hall, who was continued free on $2,000 bond until sentencing, did not testify.

But Mrs. Ezell testified Hall broke her arm only after she pulled a knife, and that she pulled the knife only after Hall took a bed sheet from her during a quarrel.

Also testifying was Benton Harbor Police Det. James Ward.

Dropping the felony charge against Hall was part of a motion by Hall's court-appointed defense counsel, Benton Harbor Atty. Thomas Adams.

Berrien Prosecutor John Hammond handled the case for the people.

Road Dept. Sues 17 Landowners

Small Park In SJ Township Blocks Highway Project

The Michigan State Highway department this week filed suit in Berrien county circuit court against 17 St. Joseph township landowners to settle a hassle over a subdivision park that the department needs for an I-94 penetrator route into St. Joseph city.

Highway Department Acquisition Chief Henry Hamp indicated that the court may be able to answer who owns a small playground in Kerley's subdivision in the Jean Ann drive area.

The park and other tangles have stalled construction of an I-94 limited access business loop from south St. Joseph city south to the expressway for five years.

TOWNSHIP'S POSITION

Township officials maintain the parcel was dedicated as a public park, and therefore is the property of the entire township and not just of the property owners in the subdivision.

The highway department, assuming that Kerley subdivision landowners have a "presumed interest" in the park, has offered each $25 for his share.

Some Kerley subdivision residents have signed quit claim deeds, but others have not.

The I-94 loop will start at Washington avenue and St. Joseph drive and run south-easterly toward the present I-94 expressway.

Landowners named in a pair of suits this week are:

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Price, 923 Jean Ann drive; Mr. and Mrs. Glen O. Van Seyoc, 927 Jean Ann drive; Mr. and Mrs. Ronald F. Powers, 1014 Jean Ann drive; Mr. and Mrs. Huldreich Herbstreit, 969 Jean Ann drive; Mr. and Mrs. Donald L. Robach, 931 Jean Ann drive; Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Hansch, 953 Jean Ann drive.

46 ENTRIES

Pick 'Miss Michigan' Tonight

MUSKEGON (AP)—The 1968 Miss Michigan Pageant moved toward its grand finale tonight when 46 contestants learn who will represent the state in the Miss America competition at Atlantic City.

All eyes will be on the L. C. Walker Arena where the judging takes place.

Already there have been some winners — in preliminary rounds of the contest.

Miss St. Clair Shores, Cheryl Kinsora, won the Friday night swim suit competition. The 18-year-old brown-haired beauty stands 5 feet 4 and measures 36-23½-34½.

In Friday night's talent competition, Miss Grandville, Linda VerSluis, 19, tied for first place with Miss Detroit, Pamela Ann Eldred, 20.

Miss VerSluis sang "Love is Where You Find It," and Miss Eldred gave a ballet audition of "The Dying Swan."

In tonight's judging, 10 finalists will be chosen. Then the judges will pick one lucky girl to succeed Miss Michigan of 1967—Toni Jo Abbenante of Grand Rapids.

SELECT COMPANY: Warren Harding and his 12-year-old Weeper Capuchin monkey, Little Jo are, according to Harding, one of eight such combinations left in the U.S. entertainment world. Harding, the organ grinder, and the monkey will appear each Tuesday at Silver Beach in St. Joseph, according to H. J. (Chief) Terrill, manager. Harding said it takes too long to train the monkey and with inflation the monkey can hardly earn enough to keep the two together. Little Jo can do a variety of tricks but his best one is putting a coin in his pocket and tipping his hat. (Staff photo)

SJ Renewal Developers Seek 60 Day Extension

Jan-Barb Corp., developers of a proposed Holiday Inn on St. Joseph's vacant Block Four, have asked the St. Joseph city commission for a 60-day extension of time to submit its financing plans.

The St. Joseph city commission will consider the request at its meeting Monday. The commission's agenda is unusually long, including 14 items.

Jan-Barb, Inc. notified the commission that construction bids when received were considerably higher than anticipated and that it will be necessary to renegotiate the loan covering construction of the proposed seven-story, 156 unit structure. The building will face Main street in the block bounded by Main, Ship, State and Port street—the so-called Block four. Jan-Barb, Inc., which includes Ralph Borchert and J. V. Burkett, originally was required to have submitted evidence as to equity capital and any commitment necessary for financing prior to June 24 so that the deal on the land could be closed by June 30.

Now Jan-Barb, Inc. requests it be given until Aug. 29 to submit its financial plans and that the closing date for the deal be Sept. 6.

CURB, GUTTER PROJECT

The commission is scheduled to hold the second reading of an ordinance authorizing issuance of new housing authority bonds. Also the commission will consider the second resolution on curb and gutter installation on Lakewood between Hilltop road and Highland avenue.

Other items on the agenda: Award petroleum contract; request by Michigan Bell Telephone Co. to place underground conduit on South State street from Wallace street to Hilltop road; purchase a police car; award contract for demolition of Larson house on Langley avenue; and request by the American Cancer Society for a tag day June 29.

The commission will consider a request from the library board to appoint Jack Sparks an ex-officio member.

Lifer Pleads Guilty In New Trial

S.D. Huntington, 65, a former Benton Harborite in jail or prison since Sept. 19, 1955, on an unarmed robbery arrest and conviction here, pleaded guilty to two unarmed robbery charges Friday in a new trial in Berrien county circuit court.

Huntington, who had been granted the right to new trial on his 1955 conviction earlier this year in part because his old trial records were destroyed, pleaded guilty to the 1955 unarmed robbery.

He also pleaded guilty to a charge of unarmed robbery as a second offender, having been convicted of unarmed robbery in Berrien county circuit court on Sept. 18, 1951.

The 1955 unarmed robbery involved a billfold and papers worth $5 or more and led to a conviction as an habitual criminal and a life sentence in prison.

Berrien Prosecutor John Hammond said the second offender conviction Friday could result in a 22½-year maximum term, with credit for time served to date.

Huntington's court-appointed counsel was Niles Atty. Joseph Low.

Two Homes Destroyed At Sodus

Hailstorm Hits Scattered Sections In Twin Cities

Lightning and strong winds damaged several homes in scattered areas of southwestern Michigan Friday evening.

Lightning caused damage to four houses, two of which were totally destroyed by flames near Sodus.

A huge tree believed to be over 100 years old toppled onto a home near Pullman in Allegan county, while the occupants of the home were outside moving their car to avoid limbs being blown off other surrounding trees.

Two vacant houses located on the same farmstead on Oxbow road in Sodus township were burned to the ground when a lightning bolt is believed to have struck one of them. Sodus township firemen said flames spread to the second house some 50 feet away. They reported that both houses, unoccupied for some time, had been condemned by township officials.

Owner of the two houses is Jay Rider of San Francisco, Calif. The blaze occurred around 7:30 p.m.

Lightning reportedly struck a large pine tree at the residence of Sam Sukupchak, 922 Maiden lane, St. Joseph, and then jumped to telephone wires and traveled into the house, burning holes in a television set which had just been turned off.

Some of the electrical outlets in the Sukupchak home as well as the rotor motor of the television antenna were burned out.

Lightning traveled on the same telephone wire to the residence of Ronald Green, 1042 Maiden lane, and started a fire along the gas line in the basement of the home, and burned out a new gas stove.

The Stevensville fire department was called to the Green home to put out a minor fire along the gas line. No estimate of damage was made for either of the two homes.

The US Coast Guard station at St. Joseph reported that hail occupied in various parts of the Twin Cities around 6 p.m. It also said that winds reached speeds of about 15 knots during the period of 5:30 to 6:30 p.m. with gusts up to 30 knots.

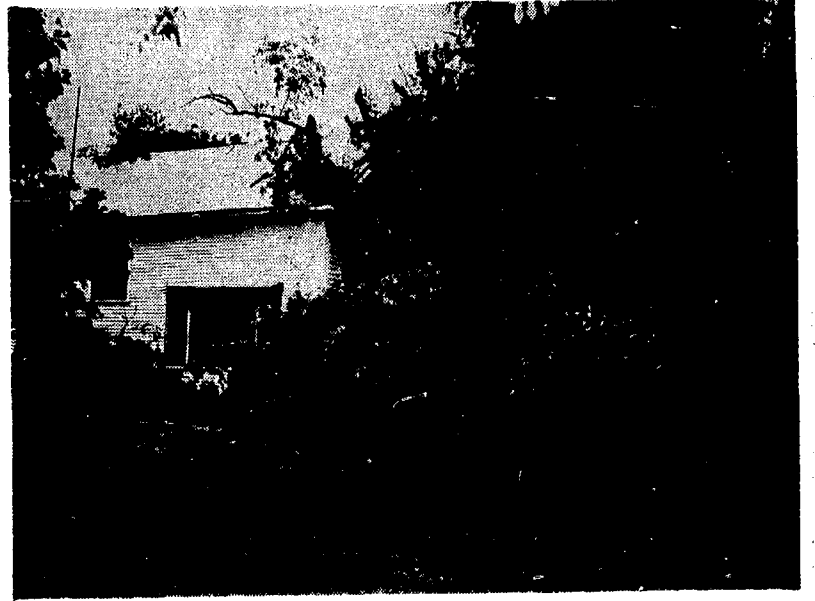

Ross Field reported that a half-inch of rain fell yesterday at the airport, but no hail fell. The hail fall was apparently sporadic throughout the Twin Cities, causing no reported damage.

A 90 foot wild cherry tree, believed to be over 100 years old, was completely uprooted by gale like winds and fell on the front of the home owned by Mr. and Mrs. William Wesby, Route 1, a mile east of Pullman.

The Wesbys were reported returning from shopping between 5 and 5:30 p.m., when strong winds forced them to remain in their car. They kept moving their car dodging large falling branches around their home. They neither heard or saw the huge wild cherry tree fall on their home.

A 15-inch diameter limb pierced the roof. No estimate of damage has been reported. Several other trees near the Wesby home had their tops completely taken off. At least a half dozen trees in the Pullman and Scott lake area were reported uprooted or broken off close to the base.

About a mile and a half north of Pullman, a maple tree two feet in diameter fell on a cottage owned by Edward Jacob. Neighbors reported that a chaise longue was picked up by the strong winds near the beach and thrown at least a 100 feet to the back of the property.

TREE UPROOTED: A 100-year-old wild cherry tree lies against the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Wesby, route 1, Pullman, after freak storm of high winds uprooted the 90 foot high tree. Damage was confined to roof where a 15-inch diameter limb pierced roof. The couple had just come home from shopping when the winds hit and were still in their car dodging falling branches when tree toppled. (Prosch-Jensen photo)

IT'S 'BAAAD' RAP

Poor Little Lamb Ends Up In Jail

NILES—A small lamb is lodged behind bars in the Niles city jail today.

At 4:35 a. m. today, Niles city police were called to the Kings Apartment building at 718 Broadway after a milkman spotted a lamb in the building.

When officers arrived they opened the front door and there it stood, looking right at them. It surrendered meekly and officers brought it back to the station and placed it in a large cage in the basement.

Police theorize the animal was placed in the building for a practical joke. Residents in the building told police they heard some noises earlier like "baa's" but no one bothered to investigate.

Police will keep the lamb at the station today and if no one claims it, they will take it to an area farmer until someone does.

Train Kills Man Sitting On Track

Victim From Rural Bangor

BANGOR — A rural Bangor man was killed early this morning by a train as he apparently sat on the tracks near 34th avenue in Van Buren county.

Sheriff's deputies said Douglas D. Cutlip, 24, route 1, Bangor, was pronounced dead at the scene by medical examiner Dr. Joseph Cooper.

Deputies said Cutlip had apparently been driving a pickup truck and had gone into the ditch. Officers theorize he started to walk home and was taking a short cut along the railroad track and sat down on the track to rest. He was about 34 of a mile from home when he was killed at 2 a.m.

Officers said engineer Fred Baker of Wyoming, Mich., told them the Chesapeake and Ohio train was traveling about 50 miles per hour when he saw a man sitting on the tracks with his head down. Baker said he was unable to stop the train in time to keep from hitting the man.

The point of impact was 282 feet southwest of the 34th avenue railroad crossing and the body was carried 92 feet before it came to rest, according to the officers.

The body was taken to the Stafford funeral home in Bangor.

Unwelcome Guests Held For Police

INDIAN LAKE — The owner of a cottage on the south side of Indian Lake apprehended five teenagers in his cottage last night and held them until Cass county sheriff's deputies could arrive.

Harold Vandenberg of Berrien Springs had planned to spend the weekend at the cottage, but when he arrived he found it already occupied by three boys and two girls.

All of the youths were from the Twin Cities area and three were juveniles.

Two of the youths, Michael Relew, 18, of Greenfield, Tenn., who has been staying in the Benton Harbor area, and Jim Harbison, 17, of 710 Vineyard, Benton Harbor, were lodged in the Cass county jail on charges of entering a building without permission. The two girls were runaways from St. Joseph.

The deputies are still investigating and Vandenberg was to return to the cottage today to determine if there was any damage or anything missing.

Many Local Residents Attending Andrews U.

BERRIEN SPRINGS — President Richard Hamill of Andrews University released registration figures for the summer quarter indicating over 20 percent of the summer students are from the local Michiana area.

Because some students residing in the community are only temporary residents while going to school, it was impossible to give exact figures, but it was estimated that over 200 of the 1,011 students are local residents.

The breakdown of enrollment for the three schools of the university is: 403 students in the college, 376 students in the school of graduate studies, and 232 students in the Theological seminary.

During the current year, students are expected from all 50 states and from over 60 foreign countries and territories, the report said.

President Hamill observed that the large number of local students who study on the Berrien Springs campus is an important measure of the service this international school provides the residents of the Michiana area.

"Our commitment to worldwide service is greatly aided by our desire to serve the people of our local community. We believe that this balance is a unique asset to all our students," the president said.

The Pages have three other sons, Keith, 15, Dean, 18 and Roger, 20, who was inducted into the armed services the day after the operation.

BANGKOK (AP) — Police and army units remained on military alert today against more student demonstrations in Thailand's capital.

Coloma Summer School Set

COLOMA — Because of a lack of interest only a remedial program is being offered in summer school at the Coloma schools. However, the driver education classes have a full enrollment.

Victor Wier, high school principal and curriculum coordinator, said the remedial program is being offered in reading and mathematics for elementary and middle school students.

Students do not have to be residents of the Coloma district to attend the classes. Registration will be held at the Coloma elementary school, where classes are held, until Tuesday. There is a $15 tuition fee.

Elementary reading will be held from 8 to 10 a.m. and math from 10 a.m. to 12 noon. Classes will be taught by Miss Diana Baker in room 205.

Middle school reading and English will be held in room 206 from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. and math from 10 a.m. to 12 noon. Teacher is Miss Victoria Wilkins.

The driver education program began the week before the regular school year ended and will continue through the second week in August. Donald Milham who is in charge of the program said it has a full enrollment of 130 students and no more students can be accepted.

Others instructing in the program are Gerald Hauch, Robert Rakauski and Ronald Curtis.

Milham said no more enrollments can be accepted until early next spring as the Coloma schools do not offer a driver education class during the winter.
